Welcome to Dunkirk!

Patrice
VERGRIETE

Former Minister,
Chairman of the Greater Dunkirk
Urban Council and
Mayor of Dunkirk

After 10 years of collective work that brought together all the stakeholders in our region, over the last two years we have laid the foundations for a new development model that is more virtuous and more favourable to the quality of life of our residents.

We've embarked upon an ecological transformation that can be summed up in three key words: innovation, decarbonisation and resilience. It has now earned us national recognition as a "model territory for reindustrialisation", European recognition as one of the "100 climate-neutral and smart cities by 2030" and international prestige, too. For the World Economic Forum, Dunkirk is one of the "20 industrial sites that will save the planet!"

More specifically, this transformation will result in the creation of 20,000 jobs and new training sectors in our region.

But also in the construction of a new model of sustainable city for the 21st century, with 12,000 new homes to come, in the heart of our towns, right next to our free public transport network.

That's why we're now prepared to bet on new factories with no car parks for future employees!

A 21st century city also means reclaiming urban spaces for nature, with the extension of our parks and a 200,000 Tree Plan. It is the arrival of new retailers in the centre of the urban area with the Docks de la Marine project. It is a major new leisure centre in the Dunkirk train station area, with a concert hall, casino, bowling alley, etc. It is the planned extension of our seaside resort which has been totally redeveloped over the last 10 years, with new homes and shops on the seafront.

Being part of society also means enjoying celebrations together. I feel very strongly about this. Over the past years, our carnival town has also become home to the world's biggest free music festival La Bonne Aventure and the French kitesurfing capital, hosting the GKA World Tour.

We're inviting you to join us in 2025 for these major popular events! With the world's greatest cyclists taking part in the 112th Tour de France and the world's finest sailing ships in the famous Tall Ships Race.

In 2025, more than ever, Dunkirk is the place to be!

Welcome home!

The chance to explore our local heritage:
recipes, typical expressions and visits are all on the agenda!

SPOTLIGHT ON A LOCAL RECIPE

For those with a sweet tooth, discover the “chuc” tart (or sugar tart).

Those from the Nord region love recipes that are simple yet comforting, particularly when it comes to pastries. These include the unmissable sugar tart or “chuc” tart, as locals call it. This speciality, a cross between a tart and a cake, is very popular in the homes in the Nord region and Belgium, but it is tricky to find it in the shops.

If you want to try it, we recommend you learn how to make this unbeatable recipe!

The recipe has several basic ingredients: flour, butter, sugar and yeast. The sugar melts upon cooking, forming a caramelised crust that gives the tart all its flavour. But those with a sweet tooth won't miss out on adding some crème fraîche when it comes out of the oven!

LIVE IN DUNKIRK

SUSTAINABLE REGION

Consuming locally and in bulk, small gestures go a long way!

In the Dunkirk urban area, a number of shops have opted to provide bulk products as an alternative to unnecessary packaging. These include the Épicerie Maison Jouve in Rosendaël, Biocoop in Coudekerque- Branche and La Tournée du Vrac in Dunkirk, as well as many others where local residents can buy food, household and cosmetic products in bulk.

But buying in bulk is not restricted to these specialist shops. More and more Dunkirk residents are bringing their own containers with them when they visit their local baker, cheesemonger or even the chip shop. This simple approach helps to reduce the use of single-use packaging while maintaining customers' shopping habits at their usual retailers.

DID YOU KNOW?

By 2030, the major supermarkets will have to offer 20% of their products in bulk, so let's start doing the right thing now!

Finally, for those wishing to buy direct from producers, the Dunkirk region gives you a range of options. In addition to the local markets held every week, the Greater Dunkirk Urban Council is developing initiatives to facilitate access to healthy, local food. Due to open in March 2025, the Halle des Sœurs Blanches will be a place where local producers and craftspeople can sell their products directly to local residents.

In addition, many farms, particularly in the Hauts de Flandre Greater District Council (CCHF), are opening their doors to consumers. These farms, such as Chêne Vert à Hoymille, not only allow you to buy fresh, seasonal produce directly from producers, but also support the local economy.

NOT TO BE MISSED

04

Don't miss this season's events and traditions, not to mention all the festivities planned for the festive season!

USEFUL INFO

A completely bonkers tradition!

The second most popular destination in France to spend the New Year is... Dunkirk! And there's no doubt that it's thanks to this unusual tradition, which has been going on since 2000: the Frosty Bath.

Every 1 January, hundreds of brave souls, dressed in their finest costumes, take a dip in the icy waters of the Malo dyke to mark the start of the New Year and, particularly, the beginning of the carnival festivities!

So to kick off the year 2025, how about a dip in the sea?

The Father Christmas Races

The region has no shortage of bonkers traditions for braving the cold. On 1 December, the 25th Father Christmas Races take place in Malo-les-Bains (or took place, depending on when you read this nice magazine). Almost 1,500 runners and walkers gathered last year in the snow, wearing Santa hats donated to them for the event! Accompanied by a live band and Father Christmas in a convertible, our brave athletes were warmly rewarded with chocolates and mulled wine at the finish line.

Students, don't spend Christmas alone!

Are you a student who can't go home for the holidays? For the third year running, the city of Dunkirk is organising a Shared Christmas, giving students the chance to spend a lovely day on 24 and/or 25 December with a family who will warmly welcome them into their home.

If you would like to register, then fill in the form on the city of Dunkirk website.

LIST OF FLEMISH PUBS

Once a café with shops where you could come for a drink, this estaminet or pub is now a popular eating place serving typical family dishes from the Nord of France and Belgium. You can sometimes play traditional Flemish games there too.
